Tiscornia Awards For Two

Ausco Workers' Children Get Scholarships

Seniors from Benton Harbor and Hartford high schools have been awarded James W. Tiscornia scholarships by the Tiscornia Foundation Inc., St. Joseph. The scholarships are valued at $3,000 each.

Receiving the awards were Eunice Fay Thomas, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Thomas, 856 Thresher avenue, Benton Harbor, and Bruce Martens, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martens, 212 Michigan avenue, Hartford.

Lester C. Tiscornia, president of the Foundation and the Auto Specialties Manufacturing company, made the announcements.

HIGH ACADEMIC RECORD

The awards are presented yearly to youngsters of employees of the firm or other qualified applicants who graduate from area high schools with a high academic record.

Miss Thomas' father is employed in the firm's Edgewater foundry as a service man on the automatic molding line.

The Benton Harbor high school senior plans on attending Western Michigan university and expects to major in psychology to eventually enter the social work field.

A member of the National Math club, Miss Thomas has been active in the school choir, year book staff, pep club, art club, Y-teens, Candy Stripes, church choir and youth activities.

Martens is the valedictorian of his class in Hartford high school. He has maintained a straight A average.

He plans to attend Michigan State university in September and seeks to specialize in engineering. He is a member and treasurer of the National Honor Society; was class president in his freshman and junior years; vice-president in his sophomore year; a member of the Hartford band and band drum major for two years. He has been active in Boy Scouts, Little League baseball and church choir.

PRINTING SUPERVISOR

Martens' father is the supervisor in the Ausco printing department in the St. Joseph plant.

The James W. Tiscornia scholarship awards were established in 1952 to provide an opportunity for higher education.

Since the start of the awards, including this year's grants, a total of $109,752 has been awarded to 39 students. The choice of school can be made by the recipient but scholastic and moral standards of the school chosen must be maintained.

The two 1969 winners were selected and presented to the foundation by the scholarship committee consisting of D. W. Davies, chairman; Kenneth J.

RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS: Bruce Martens, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martens, 121 Michigan avenue, Hartford, and Eunice Fay Thomas, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Thomas, 856 Thresher avenue, Benton Harbor, have been awarded $3,000 scholarships by the Tiscornia Foundation Inc. Lester C. Tiscornia, center, president of Auto Specialties Manufacturing company, St. Joseph, announced the winners of the annual James W. Tiscornia scholarship awards.

Tobias Criticizes Mayor's Statement

Mayor Pro-Tem 'Shocked' By Merger Idea

Mayor Pro-Tem C. A. (Toby) Tobias of St. Joseph said today he was "shocked" at Mayor W. H. (Duke) Ehrenberg's proposal to merge Twin City area public safety departments.

Tobias' statement followed Mayor Ehrenberg's comments at a Twin City Area Chamber of Commerce-sponsored meeting of government officials and chamber members Tuesday night at Howard Johnson's res-

"I was shocked to hear and read a statement made by the mayor of the City of St. Joseph on Tuesday, May 6, pertaining to the possible merging of public safety in the local areas," Tobias wrote in a formal statement.

"To quote, 'I am not talking about putting everything together right at this moment, but . . .'" Tobias continued.

"I think it behoves the major to confer with the rest of the St. Joseph city commission, and feel out the people of our city before making such a judicious statement," Tobias wrote.

"Myself, as a city commissioner and taxpayer in the City of St. Joseph, am not in agreement with Mayor Ehrenberg on this subject, nor will I ever agree to any such folly," Tobias continued.

"It comes as a surprise to me that he would make such a statement. I am not sure how the rest of the commissioners feel about this, and I am sure his statement does not reflect

Fortas Won't Talk About $20,000 Fee

BOSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas pushed aside the questions of newsmen Thursday night about his acceptance and later return of a $20,000 fee from the family foundation of imprisoned financier Louis Wolfsdorf.

Fortas, making his first public appearance since disclosure of the fee last Sunday in Life magazine, delivered an address at Northwestern University on the generation gap and campus unrest.

"It comes as a surprise to me that he would make such a statement. I am not sure how the rest of the commissioners feel about this, and I am sure his statement does not reflect the consensus of opinion of the residents of our city, good Ole St. Joe," he concluded.

Ehrenberg said today: "It is not the intention to make the community one big town, but to work for efficiency in government and save the taxpayers' money. There are numerous duplications in public safety services such as four different police radio operations going 24 hours a day in the community."

"Under the present system," he said, "pressure groups and lobbyists may prevail upon the Legislature to pass laws which are not supported by the public. Any question of such importance as parochial funds to the school aid bill might 'ultimately kill' or delay it."

"The school aid money has already been delayed long enough," he said. "Last year at this time it was law, and schools knew much money they had and could begin contract negotiations for this coming fall."

Waldron asked Speaker William Ryah, D-Detroit—an avowed parochialist— to rule on whether the parochial amendment might be considered before all the governor's appropriations bills had been acted upon.

He cited a section of the Michigan Constitution which specifies that items set forth in the budget shall be passed or rejected in either House "before that House passes any appropriation bill for items not in the budget."

Gov. William Milliken did not include recommendation for parochial funds in his budget proposals for the coming fiscal year.

Prexy Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Buell G. Gallagher submitted his resignation today as president of embattled City College of New York.

Gallagher asked the Board of Higher Education to relieve him by Monday morning as head of the school which has experienced two days of student fighting, vandalism and arson.

He was placed in Berrien county jail.

The man gave a description of the car to police. Atcher was brought to the police station by his father, at the request of police.

He was placed in Berrien county jail.

Search, meanwhile, continued for the youth who grabbed Mrs. Brandes' wallet. She said he was a light-complexioned Negro and had an Afro-American haircut. He was wearing a green turtle neck sweater and dark trousers.

Purses Taken From 2 Women In Strong-Armed Robberies

A St. Joseph woman was thrown to the sidewalk and a Harbor Towers resident pushed up against a wall in the hallway outside her apartment yesterday by youths who stole their purses, Benton Harbor police reported.

One youth was arrested and a warrant was being sought for the arrest of a second in connection with the strong-armed robbery of a purse at Third and Main streets from Mrs. Marion Janke of 714 Botham avenue, St. Joseph.

William Perry Atcher, 16, of 1008 Superior street, who was released from Boys' training school three weeks ago, was arrested on a charge of strong-armed robbery. A warrant was being sought for a second person, James "Junebug" Jackson, 17.

WHIRLED AROUND

Police said Mrs. Janke was twirled to the sidewalk yesterday afternoon when one of two youths grabbed her purse. Hanging onto the straps of her purse, she was whirled around and thrown to the street. She sustained a bruised ankle and arm.

A second victim, Mrs. Katherine Brandes, 54, had just left her apartment on the fifth floor of Harbor Towers yesterday when a youth struck her in the side and pushed her against the wall, police said. The youth grabbed her wallet and escaped with $19.

Det. Sgt. Alfred Edwards said an attempt will be made to waive Atcher into adult court because of the seriousness of his previous record. He will be 17 on June 20, an age that classifies one as an adult offender.

Atcher's record shows arrests for purse-snatching and assault of a Benton township police officer. He was released from boys training school three weeks ago on an after-care program.

Mrs. Janke's purse contained $11. It was not recovered immediately. Police said two men came to the assistance of Mrs. Janke yesterday, but couldn't catch the fleeing figures running up Third street. One man chased a youth until he jumped into a car and rode off, police said.

The man gave a description of the car to police. Atcher was brought to the police station by his father, at the request of police.

He was placed in Berrien county jail.

Search, meanwhile, continued for the youth who grabbed Mrs. Brandes' wallet. She said he was a light-complexioned Negro and had an Afro-American haircut. He was wearing a green turtle neck sweater and dark trousers.

Blossoms 'Best Ever' Says Man Who Knows

Our Festival His Idea

By ORVIN JOHNSON
Staff Writer

Fred L. Granger, 80 years old, says of the fruit trees now in blossom "They're the best I've ever seen them." His opinion carries weight coming as it does from the man who in 1923 wrote a letter to Stanley Banyon, then editor of The Benton Harbor News-Palladium, suggesting an annual Blossom festival.

"Across the lake, three million people in Chicago are hungering for the first sight and touch of spring. Why not invite them to come to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph to enjoy with us . . . all the wealth of nature we have to display?"

There was an immediate response to the letter but little time to act. The blossoms would open in less than a month.

In that short time a plan emerged to hire a large, new truck, fill it with blossoms and drive it to Chicago. There for two days the truck circled the Loop, playing canned music and inviting the public to participate in "Nature's Spectacle," as the festival was originally called.

IT CAUGHT ON

The result was that "Georgia peaches" became a household word. And the growers sold their fruit.

Granger decided that where Georgia could succeed, Berrien county — with a larger variety and volume of fruit crops and easier access to the big retail markets — could stage an even better show to advertise its own products. An excerpt from his letter to Stanley Banyon:

"The idea caught on, and the Blossomtime Festival, now in its 37th year, is still going strong."

Granger, retired food processor who lives at 465 East Napier avenue, Fairplain, recalls that in the 1920's the immediate incentive for the festival was an intensive advertising campaign waged by Georgia peach growers.

Taking advantage of the popular vaudeville circuits, the peach growers employed a dozen of Georgia's prettiest girls to dance and sing on stage and at the same time demonstrate to housewives the advantages of serving authentic Georgia peaches.

Flipity Flop Is The Name Of The Game At City Hall

Small problems have a way of requiring tortured solutions when the formulae are being threshed out in an elected assembly. More often than not the answer given on Monday to a question will vary from that delivered on Tuesday to the identical inquiry.

Consistency may not be a vice. Neither is it a virtue cherished for its own sake.

sidewalks in St. Joseph are a prime example of this weaving to and fro.

Until last year the city commission ordered their installation pretty much on a permissive basis.

If a particular neighborhood petitioned for a sidewalk, the city fathers ordered the work done and the property owners within the area billed on a special assessment.

Occasionally, the city would exercise its authority to lay down a walkway against the private landowner's objection, but the prerogative was used sparingly.

In 1968 the commission, at the behest of the local Safety Council, instituted a zoned construction program for the newer residential sections where sidewalks were either absent or partially existent.

Priority was assigned by traffic density.

A number of sectors protested the need for the walks. They disputed the school children's protection as an over-stress by the Safety Council and called the presence of a concrete ribbon an aesthetic affront to a gardenlike neighborhood.

We felt at the time and still do that the 1968 commission adopted the enforced paving on the premise that if other household-

Germ War Potential

Chemical and biological warfare long has raised a greater fear in the mind of the public than any other weapon of mass incapacitation or destruction, including the various nuclear weapons. The reasons for this spontaneous fear are not readily apparent.

To begin with, there is no such thing as an "ultimate" weapon. For every new weapon system devised, there soon comes along either an antidote or a more destructive weapon to threaten retaliation.

That cycle, in fact, is the heart of the controversy in Congress concerning various proposals for anti-ballistic missiles. Just how far is any nation willing to go in providing anti-anti-anti-weapons systems?

Just as the nuclear arsenal contains everything from small field weapons to those capable of destroying major cities anywhere in the world, so does the CBW arsenal contain a wide spectrum of potential weapon systems.

Mustard gases used in World War I are an obsolete form of CBW weapons. While the use of any kind of gas, chemical or biological weapon largely has been outlawed by civilized nations, the danger that such weapons could fall into the hands of an aggressor has been reason enough for the United States and some other nations to develop their own secret stockpiles.

The extent to which the United States has committed itself to the development of CBW weapons was revealed the other day in Congress when a Pentagon spokesman disclosed the annual defense budget for these weapons is $350 million.

ers have paid for sidewalks so should all, and used the Safety Council's recommendation as a peg on which to hang their hats.

In any event, some of the walkless neighborhoods were concreted and in the past few weeks City Manager Hill set in motion a continuation of the schedule adopted last year.

A week ago Monday some residents on Evergreen Drive, a dead-end street, appeared before the commission to object to sidewalks for their neighborhood.

They argued the same point brought up last year, namely, that traffic is so light on their street as to scuttle the safety requirement. The aesthetics debate was also repeated.

The commission delayed a decision until this Monday's meeting, at which time by a 4-1 vote it cancelled the Evergreen project.

Atty. Richard Globensky, one of two new members on the commission, carried the day for the protesters.

The commission, he said, should not shy from making exceptions to a rule for fear of a reaction from those under the rule.

When Hill noted that four residents on Briar Court, another dead-end street, had telephoned their objections to him, Globensky replied there is a difference in the mechanics of protesting.

Face to face, in his book, counts for more than a telephone call.

This is good political stuff, a technique the campus and other militants are exploiting to the fullest.

Specious as Globensky's position is, he pulled Mayor Ehrenberg and Commissioners Gast and Smith along with him.

Commissioner Tobias, the spark plug in the '68 policy, cast the dissenting vote.

No one disputes the Evergreen residents in not wanting to pay for an improvement of questionable value, and for what benefit the rest of the sidewalk program will accomplish that might just as well be junked.

The example is the major concern.

If the city fathers develop rubbery knees on a small thing, will they take off on a moon flight when something big lights on the table?

Their answer can only be that going dipsy doodle on little items does not mean resolution is ruled out for major questions.

Let's hope this much at least proves out.

Soybean Manipulations

Soybeans, for years regarded as the wonder product of agriculture, during the 1960s has become the political football crop. Secretaries of Agriculture have fixed price supports and other controls for the crop not on the basis of need, but of desired voting effect.

Before 1961, the Farm Journal reports, soybeans were doing famously. Without much help from price supports, soybean producers were expanding markets and adding acreage. Then, the Kennedy Administration decided more production was desirable and increased the price support from $1.85 a bushel to $2.30.

As expected, production zoomed far out of proportion to demand and farm prices fell below support levels. The result was, says the Journal, "we gave away more soybean oil overseas than we could sell."

In 1962, the Administration pared back the support level and for a time soybean production and markets became better balanced. 1966 was a congressional election year, and former Secretary Freeman imposed another sharp increase in the support price. Once again the market was glutted and the soybean picture has been gloomy ever since.

Now is a good time for the new Administration to regain the perspective which seems to have been lost in recent years and bring soybeans closer to free market conditions. The record is clear that there is a growing market for U.S. soybean producers to tap, if Washington will stop trying so hard to help.

Around 2,000 American planes bombed seven airfields and three rail yards in France, Belgium and Luxembourg today in perhaps the heaviest day of aerial offensive the world has ever known, spreading creeping paralysis upon the Nazi war machine now tensely awaiting invasion.

In the bright light of a bombers' moon, 750 British Lancasters and Halifaxes poured up to 3,200 of bombs into tactical targets in France, Belgium and Germany, ripping up railways, airfields and defense points. Ten bombers were lost over Saint Pierre in Belgium, a seaplane base and airfield near Brest, the French invasion coast, the Ruhr and the German city of Osnabruck.

Inside Washington

Washington — California Gov. Ronald Reagan continues to surprise political observers with the impact his personality and good looks still have on the voters.

He showed up again at the recent Republican Governors' Conference in Lexington, Ky.

As usual, the handsome former movie actor was surrounded by autograph seekers wherever he went. As chairman of the Republican Governors, Reagan automatically was the center of conference activity. So much so that he delegated to Vice Chairman Raymond P. Shaffer of Pennsylvania the honor of holding the final news conference summarizing the meeting actions.

All of Reagan's appeal, however, is now only a standby asset as far as national elevation is concerned. For the Republicans now have their own President in the White House and if Richard M. Nixon leaves in 1973 it almost certainly will be because a Democrat has been elected in his place—not because he has been denied renomination.

Despite President Johnson's surprise retirement, there isn't much to suggest that Nixon will fail to run for a second term in 1972. And Reagan will be 65 in 1976.

Should disability or death remove Nixon from office during his first term, the GOP might want an alternative to Vice President Agnew in 1972. That would bring Reagan back into the presidential picture.

DR. COLEMAN

.. And Speaking Of Your Health

A few weeks ago I told you, my readers, that I was prompted by vanity to wear a heavy, weighted belt around my waist in an effort to reduce my waistline. At that time, I began to wear an eight-pound belt starting with an hour or two in the morning and increasing the time until I was able to wear it for six or eight hours without fatigue.

The belt, made by the M. F. C. Company, seemed to accomplish part of its purpose. I found that after Dr. Coleman wearing it consistently for about ten to fourteen days, my waistline was reduced by an inch and a half. This I believe to be a real accomplishment. The belt, however, did not do it alone, for in addition to the regulator lazy exerciser, I had very definitely limited my food intake to about 1,200 calories a day.

I know that I will be asked to account for the method by which a belt accomplishes this. I am certain there is an isometric exercise involved by the pressure of the abdominal muscles against the belt during daily activity.

I must warn all of my readers that this lazy man's way of reducing total weight, or the size of the waistline, is just another method of avoiding coming face-to-face with the established scientific fact that overeating makes one gain weight.

Undereating in a sensible way can make one lose total weight in localized areas of the body. There is no short cut to the personal deprivation that comes with giving up those luscious desserts and french fried potatoes.

It is astonishing how many physical diseases are either attributed totally or partially to the stress of modern living. Emotions and stress are not the only answer, but certainly they must always be given some recognition since they are implicated so often in the structure of physical illnesses.

It will come as a surprise to many that asthma, migraine headaches, stomach and duodenal ulcers, ulcerative colitis, arthritis, high blood pressure and imbalance of the endocrine hormone glands system are intimately related to stress and emotion.

A famous Canadian authority on the subject of stress, Dr. Hans Selye, feels that factors other than tension and emotional upsets can be considered as stressful to the body. For example, stress can be a burden on the body and can be caused by infection, injury, severe fatigue, drug reactions, lack of oxygen at unusual heights, and exposure to unusual degrees of heat and cold. These forces produce stress and can alter the normal functioning of all organs of the body.

When one recognizes this, they can have a better understanding of the real meaning of preventive medicine. People can pattern their lives in ways of avoiding many of these stresses and can, in all likelihood, give themselves a gift of longer life in better health.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Bedridden patients must be turned from side to side frequently to avoid pressure sores and congestion of the lungs.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

4. Three spades. The jump raise to three over the double is purely preemptive and by no means forcing. Normally it shows five trumps and 5 to 8 points in high cards, but the strength may vary, depending upon distribution.

5. Pass. The winning bid is a pass, although, theoretically, partner may have a hand good for ten tricks. In most deals you will make only eight or nine tricks, and it simply is not worth jeopardizing the part score by bidding again. Including his distributional values, North, on an average, will have 14 or 15 points for his raise — and this prospect is too unattractive to justify a further try for game.

Your Child Going Off To School?

BH Teachers Write Series For Parents

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four articles on preparing children for kindergarten. Four Benton Harbor kindergarten teachers with total teaching experience of 66 years collaborated on the articles which apply to parents and children in all school districts. The teachers explain their purposes in the accompanying letter.

DEAR PARENTS! The spring season brings among other things, the registration for next fall's class of kindergartners or the high school graduating class of 1983. Parents realize the time is drawing near when their child will be entering school for the first time. The question is often asked, "What can we do to help our child in this first school experience?" For this reason, we kindergarten teachers have prepared a series of articles designed to help you in your endeavor.

In closing, parents, we hope our letter to you will help you in some way and possibly pointed out some positive ways to help your child.

Thank you for the kind five years you have already given your child and we will do all possible to help in his continued growth.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Shirley Hill,
Lafayette school
Mrs. Dorothy Smith,
Nickerson school
Mrs. Fran Kuschel,
Calvin Britain school
Mrs. Lorraine Hadlow,
Fairplain East school

The kindergarten is organized to prepare the child emotionally, socially and mentally to make the most of the learning in the next years of his school life where the basic social arts and skills are introduced.

When your child enters kindergarten he is made a member of a large group of children. He finds this a new situation from his life at home where great emphasis has many times been placed upon his own wants and needs. It is necessary for him to make an adjustment and the kindergarten program by varied and rich experiences helps the child to do this. Children come from many varied background experiences, each bringing something to share with the group.

Some of the important things your child will gain from his kindergarten experiences are:

1. He will learn to live and work with other boys and girls of his own age.

2. He will find opportunity to use a large variety of materials to help him express his ideas.

3. He will learn to listen and to take part in discussions. By this means he will gain experience in expressing himself clearly and make use of ideas and others.

4. He will have daily contact with pictures, books, stories and simple dramatizations which will help build a reading readiness.

5. These various activities will help him develop good work habits, good listening habits, the ability to follow directions, and the ability to think for himself.

6. He will have many opportunities to enjoy music and to take part in rhythms, songs, and games.

7. Through these daily activities, he learns to know the satisfaction of work well-done and to take an interest in his surroundings.

8. Most important of all, he is gaining a feeling of security in his group, a feeling that he is needed and depended upon in helping to carry out all group activities and he will build a good image of himself.

Planners Pick Berndt In St. Joe

St. Joseph Planning commission elected Neil Berndt, engineer for John C. Yerington Co., as chairman and Architect Donald McGrath as vice chairman at its meeting last night. The dinner meeting was held at Tosi's restaurant, Ridge road, Stevensville.

Berndt was chairman two years ago and McGrath was chairman last year. McGrath was named vice chairman, a new position.

Gerald Heppeler, who serves as secretary of the planning group, urged the group to spend some time on general planning for land use development outside of the specific cases referred to it by the city commission.

Members of the planning commission are James Stock, James Mason, James Heathcote, Doug Landis, M.R. Rushlow, Bud Nowlen and Lee Selent. Heppeler, superintendent of the St. Joseph Department of Public Works and Amil Bergo, superintendent of the inspection department, are ex-officio members.

BH Pair's Puppy Tops Dog Show

Mr. and Mrs. James Tipton, of 631 Pavone, Benton Harbor, Wednesday took the grand championship of the American Kennel Club dog show in Kalamazoo with their 9-month old Boston terrier, "Sir Tipton Bruno."

"Bruno", who was entered in the puppy class, was chosen champion over the winners of four other divisions representing a total of approximately 1,300 dogs.

The victory was rewarding economically also for "Bruno" who received a year's supply of dog food and other supplies, and a $50 savings bond for his masters.

Companion Tells Of Overhearing Robbery Plans

By RAY SMETANKA

Ruby Lee Hill, one of three persons charged with conspiracy to commit armed robbery in the slaying of Benton Harbor tavern owner Robert Russell, was bound over to Circuit court yesterday by Sixth district Judge Harry Laity.

Judge Laity took under advisement the case of her brother, James Lewis Hill, also charged with conspiracy. Another man, Danny Woodall, 27, of 863 Colfax avenue, Benton Harbor, is awaiting examination on a charge of conspiracy.

Russell, 52, was found shot after a robbery early in the morning of April 9 at the Apollo Bar, 150 Territorial road, which he owned and operated. He died several hours later.

WITNESS TESTIFIES

At yesterday's preliminary examination, the court heard testimony from Mrs. Farida Edwards of Sebring, Florida, who said she traveled with the three and a younger Hill brother to Florida the day Russell died. Mrs. Edwards had called police upon reaching Tallahassee.

Mrs. Edwards, 28, dressed in a yellow checkered dress, testified that she had spent two days in a Benton Harbor apartment prior to the crime with the defendants, their younger brother, and Kenneth Cunningham.

Cunningham, 32, and Vaughn Ray Rodgers, 30, of Benton Heights, have been charged with first degree murder.

Speaking in a deep southern accent, Mrs. Edwards testified that on the night of the crime, she had heard "bits and pieces" of conversations concerning a robbery.

She said that apparently Ruby Hill and Danny Woodall were "trying to talk Cunningham and Rodgers out of committing a robbery."

PASSED OUT

Under cross-examination by Atty. John Ryan, court appointed attorney for James Hill, she said that Hill was not a part of the conversation. She said he had become quite intoxicated and had "passed out" before talk of the robbery began.

However, Mrs. Edwards said she did not call the police because she didn't "know that much until afterwards."

And besides, she said, "They were always talking about robbing some place but they never had done it."

She testified that she went to sleep about 10 or 10:30 p.m. on the night of April 8 and was awakened about 3 a.m. the next morning.

She said there was considerable confusion and that "everyone was telling me to hurry; we had to go."

She said that the group, consisting of herself, Ruby and James Hill, their brother and Danny Woodall, left by car for Florida.

Mrs. Edwards said that the group "kept trying to get the news on the radio" saying that they knew Russell had been shot and wanted to find out how his condition was.

Mrs. Edwards quoted Ruby Hill as saying that it wasn't surprising Russell was shot because he had a considerable number of enemies.

ESCAPE TRY FAILS

After deducing what had happened, Mrs. Edwards said that she attempted to break away from the group while in a town in Georgia only to be beaten by Danny Woodall.

After the beating, Mrs. Edwards testified that Ruby Hill said anyone telling about the alleged crime would be killed.

Mrs. Edwards said she eventually was able to contact police when the group reached Tallahassee.

Mrs. Edwards is presently in bond as a material witness and is being housed at the Berrien General Hospital, where she was taken for treatment of injuries she allegedly acquired from Woodall's beating. She also has suffered from hepatitis.

Special Assistant Prosecutor Seymour Zaban admitted to Judge Laity that "the case against James Hill is not as strong as that against his sister," considering his intoxicated condition during the alleged crime.

However, Zaban claimed that a statement attributed to Hill

Private Bus Use Raises Questions

McAlvey Makes Statement On Jr. High Trip

Donald McAlvey, assistant superintendent of instruction of the Benton Harbor school district, said today that use of a privately owned bus to transport Benton Harbor junior high students on a field trip did not violate district transportation policies.

McAlvey commented after there were inquiries about taking students to Greenfield Village in a bus reportedly owned by Maurice Bishop, head of the local Southern Christian Leadership conference. The SCLC has picketed Benton Harbor junior high and Bishop was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors for allegedly encouraging students to stay out of school.

Bishop recently acquired the bus from the Paw Paw school district.

McAlvey said board of education policy regulates the use of school-owned buses for field trips, but is silent on other means of transportation for field trips.

If a field trip cannot be made within the board policy, the principal is authorized to use his judgment in securing other means of transportation.

A review is being made of the current school district policy and guidelines on field trips by the administration.

BH Board Post Sought By Woman

Sodus Candidate Readies Petitions

Mrs. Ilene Fox, 3090 Hilldale road, Sodus township, today announced her candidacy for the Benton Harbor board of education.

Mrs. Fox said she will file nominating petitions Monday.

The deadline for candidates to qualify for the June 9 election is 4 p.m. Monday. Petitions can be filed at the school business office, 240 Jefferson street.

The candidacy of Mrs. Fox sets up a contested election. Incumbents Donald Boerman and Ernest Whiteside have filed nominating petitions. Two terms of four years each are at stake in the election.

Mrs. Fox said she is seeking a seat on the board because the Benton Harbor school district is such a large area 1 feel that outlying areas need representation and should take a more active interest in our system."

Her husband Harold is a fruit grower. They have three children, Susan, 10, Frank, 7, and Mary, 5.

Mrs. Fox, 37, is a registered nurse and relief evening supervisor at St. Joseph Memorial hospital. She is a native of Nebraska, a graduate of St. Anthony's School of Nursing, Pendleton, Ore., and has lived in this area 15 years.

A member of the Benton Harbor school district's citizens advisory committee, Mrs. Fox has held several offices in the Chadwick school Parent Teachers organization. Chadwick was closed last November by the board of education for economy reasons to balance the budget.

School Opinionnaires Are Due In St. Joseph

St. Joseph school officials asked residents to add filling out their "Opinionnaire" among the spring chores that must be done this weekend.

Over 10,000 four-page survey sheets were distributed last Monday by St. Joseph High school students. By Thursday morning 887 had been returned.

St. Joseph School Supt. Richard Ziemer said school officials and citizens advisory council members were aiming for a return of about 2,000 of the survey sheets. But they would "really like" to get 5,000 back. The more survey sheets returned the more accurate the results will be, Ziemer said.

The "Opinionnaire" was originally conceived by members of the advisory council who wanted to sample the district's taste for some of the education questions, both instructional and financial, now pending.

The high school students attempted to distribute copies to every adult in the district last Monday but if anyone was missed, Ziemer said, the district will mail one out. All the person has to do is call any school office.

The surveys need not be signed. They can be returned by mail in the addressed envelope, left in green boxes placed at many stores or sent to school with children.

Big Decrease In BH Fire Alarms In April

Results of a new housing inspection program and a sharp decrease in incendiary fires are credited with cutting Benton Harbor fire alarms by more than 37 per cent last month compared to April, 1968.

Fire Chief Ralph Hetherington reported that last April, in disorders following the assassination of Martin Luther King, seven incendiary fires were reported and some other fires may have been set purposely.

But according to Hetherington, this April there were no incendiary fires recorded and the total numbers of alarms fires in Brunson Hill in March of 1968 and only 7 this year, and 17 in April 1968 as compared with 50 per cent.

"We've been concentrating in the Brunson Hill area for the last two months," Hetherington said. "As a result we've noted a decrease in fires there of more than 50 per cent."

He said that there were 18 of poor housekeeping."

St. Joe School Board To Decide On Millage

BULLETIN

Dr. Dean K. Ray, St. Joseph school board president, filed nominating petitions late this morning and will seek election to a new four-year term on the board.

Report on school election candidates and a decision on whether or not to place a millage issue on the June 9 ballot will highlight the St. Joseph school board meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, in the library of Milton junior high school.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the school board is 4 p.m. Monday. They must be filed with the school business manager or the board secretary by that time.

There are two seats open on the board, one held by Dr. Dean K. Ray, board president, and the other by Collins Gillespie, board secretary. Gillespie has announced he will not be a candidate for re-election. Dr. Ray has not announced his decision.

Wendell G. Voss, director of ceramics development at Laboratory Equipment Co., has filed for one of the four-year terms.

LAWRENCE SCHOOLS REQUEST 11 MILL LEVY

Four Cases Are Heard By Daines

New Judge Keeps Busy In Van Buren

PAW PAW — During his first day on the bench as judge of the seventh district court in Paw Paw, Judge Luther I. Daines presided over four cases.

In one of the first cases, Ralph Maddox, Jr., no age given, of Lawrence, demanded a preliminary hearing on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Maddox was arrested Wednesday in Lawrence township by Van Buren county sheriff's deputies. They said they found a .25 caliber automatic pistol in the car. Bond was set at $500.

Van F. Johns, 19, Baroda, pleaded guilty to a charge of simple larceny. Johns admitted taking an antique rifle from a Keesler township home April 29. He was released on his own recognizance pending pre-sentence investigation.

William Rowlands, no age given, Hartford, demanded examination on a charge of statutory rape. He also requested that the court appoint an attorney for him. His bond was set at $3,000 and the preliminary hearing was set for May 16 at 10 a.m. He was arrested by Hartford village police on March 25.

John Dovovan, no age given, Bloomingdale, pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction and paid fine and costs of $18. He was arrested yesterday by sheriff's deputies for kicking in the door of a Bloomingdale home.

Sluggers Strike Out At Gobles

Baseball Banned In City Park

GOBLES — Boys no longer may play baseball in the city park. Some neighboring home owners complained to city commissioners that errant baseballs had shattered their windows. So the city commission last night ordered police officers to enforce a ban on ballplaying at the park and direct all ballplayers to the school playground which is not so closely hemmed in by houses.

The commission had a good word for Scoutmaster Richard Ward and Troop 71 Boy Scouts. It was voted to send a letter of thanks to the scouts for cleaning up shattered glass around a vacant service station near the school. The scouts also boarded up the empty windows of the vandalized service station.

Mayor Martin Van Strien will check into the legal implications of the city's having old and unoccupied homes burned down to get rid of the buildings. Commissioners discussed the leveling of two such dilapidated homes because they are a hazard to children who play in them.

The firm of Sidnam & Lyle of Kalamazoo will be notified to audit city books after July 1.

Commissioners authorized Delano Rose Roofing Co., Gobles, to repair roofs on city buildings for $150, gave permission to Veterans of Foreign Wars post 1214 to sell poppies in the city May 23 and 24 and authorized purchase of 20 gallons of yellow paint for no-parking zones on curbs.

Bills totaling $2,507 were approved.

Veterans' Group Plans Car Wash

The Lake Michigan College Veterans association wants to donate a flag pole and accessories at the school's new campus opening in June.

And to raise money for the project the veterans will stage a car wash from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. It will be on the parking lot of Hilltop Foods, 1332 Hilltop road, St. Joseph, according to Lester D. Baugher, St. Joseph, chairman for the wash.

Pleads Guilty To Striking Teacher

Hassle Over New Buffalo School Policy

A Grand Beach man, William Hatfield, 27, of 15 McKean street, pleaded guilty in Fifth District court Thursday to a charge of assault and battery stemming from an attack on the principal of New Buffalo high school.

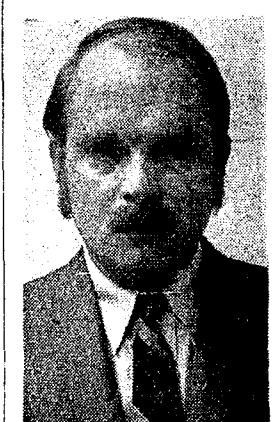

District Judge John Hammond who heard the case in St. Joseph, placed Hatfield on a pre-sentence bond of $100.

Hatfield is accused of striking Principal Ronald Morrison during an altercation at the school about 8:20 a.m. Thursday. It was reported to have started when Hatfield went to the school to find out why his eighth-grade daughter could not attend the junior prom.

School Superintendent Myron Reyher said school policy dictates that junior high students are not permitted to attend high school dances. Reyher said the girl had been told of the policy after she had been asked to attend as a date of a high school student.

According to Reyher, the principal was struck, but not seriously hurt and continued at work. Several faculty members nearby "entered the encounter and it was over as quickly as it began," said Reyher.

Grant Goes To Teacher At LMC

CLARK L. BAIR

Lake Michigan College Chemistry Instructor Clark L. Bair has been awarded an $850 grant to take part in a 10-week National Science Foundation research participation program at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge this summer.

He will start his summer study program on June 9 and will conduct his research in the field of electron spin resonance which make it hard to get an accurate count of those who will be attending school next year in Berrien Springs, the board voted to discontinue taking the school census this year.

His research will be one of several sequential summer programs for him leading to a doctor of philosophy degree at Louisiana State.

Bair joined the LMC faculty in 1968. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Kansas State University and a master of science degree from University of Wisconsin.

Engene Ireland was appointed to represent the Berrien Springs school district at the Berrien County Intermediate School District Board of Education election on June 2, 1969.

The board approved for payment bills which amounted to $14,056.

Truck, Car Smashup Injures 13

Seven Persons Are Hospitalized

DECATUR — Van Buren county sheriff's deputies today continued to investigate the collision last night of a pickup truck carrying 11 migrant workers and children and a young Dowagiac area couple's car, injuring all 13 persons.

Seven were hospitalized and six others were released after hospital treatment.

Deputies said the collision occurred about 6:10 p.m. on M-40, at 92nd avenue five miles southwest of Decatur in Hamilton township.

TRUCK, CAR COLLIDE

According to the deputies' report, the accident occurred when a pickup truck driven by Roy Lee Knox, route 2, Green Bay, La., on 92nd avenue struck a car driven on M-40 by Richard Janssen, 20, route 3, Dowagiac.

Knox told deputies that the brakes of his truck failed as he tried to stop at the intersection.

Both Janssen and his wife, Cindy, 19, were taken to Dowagiac Lee Memorial hospital and later transferred to South Bend Memorial hospital.

He is reported in satisfactory condition while his wife was reported in fair condition this morning.

CRITICAL CONDITION

One passenger in the pickup truck, Fronzia Knox, 18, also was taken to South Bend Memorial hospital and is reported in critical condition. The driver of the pickup truck was treated at the Dowagiac hospital and released.

Four other passengers who were riding in the cab of the truck were admitted to Lee Memorial hospital.

Linda Knox, 10, is reported in fairly good condition, Jerry Johns, 12, is reported in good condition, Reyley Washington, Jr., 13, is listed in good condition and Yolanda Villarrel, 2, is reported in fair condition.

MIGRANT PROGRAM

This summer the Berrien Springs school district is planning to operate a model Migrant Education program under the direction of the Federal government.

The model program hopes to take 30 elementary pupils from migrant families who have, or will be, settling in this area for full time residency and show the type of program that can be developed for these families.

One of the main purposes of the program will be to develop the language skill of the family.

After discussing the special education program and the migrant programs which operate in the upper elementary school during the summer, the board authorized Supt. Lee Auble to obtain a price quotation for air conditioning the school. According to Auble, the air conditioning is already included in the budget and would cost about $40,000.

CENSUS DROPPED

Because the law no longer requires a school district to take a census each year and because of the many migrants which make it hard to get an accurate count of those who will be attending school next year in Berrien Springs, the board voted to discontinue taking the school census this year.

Scholarship For LMC Graduate

An annual $250 scholarship to Western Michigan University will be awarded soon to an accounting major graduating from Lake Michigan college this spring.

The grant was given to LMC by Crowe, Chizek and Co., certified public accounting firm of South Bend, through the department of accounting at WMU, according to Charles M. Hedges, LMC business administration instructor.

The winner will be selected by the LMC business administration faculty and announced on May 20, Hedges stated.

Voters To Decide June 9

Three-Mill Tax Will Be Applied Only If Needed

LAWRENCE — Lawrence school district residents will vote June 9 on 11 operating mills, including the renewal of eight mills and three additional mills.

The Lawrence board of education agreed on the number of mills to be sought during its regular meeting last night.

A public meeting to discuss the millage issue has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 3, in the high school library.

ONLY IF NEEDED

School Superintendent Wesley Harding said voters will be asked for permission to levy the additional millage. Harding said this means that the mills would be levied by the district only if the money is needed. He said this will depend largely on the amount received here in state aid. The aid for the district next year is not yet known.

The millage is to be requested for a three-year period, 1969-71, Harding said.

The eight mills expired last December, and the district currently has a three-mill extra voted levy, in addition to 8.63 allocated mills and 6.5 mills for debt retirement, for a total of 18.18 mills.

Among five candidates for two board vacancies June 9 will be Horace Hutchins, board secretary, who earlier indicated that he did not intend to seek re-election. It was reported that Hutchins now is a candidate. Petitions are being circulated in his behalf.

Other candidates are Lester Zoodsma, Mrs. Wilbur Perkins, Robert Carpp and Frank Owen, Carlyle Wassmann, board president, announced earlier that he will not seek re-election.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. next Monday.

ELECTION BOARD

Named to the election board were Mrs. Sydney Norris, Mrs. Richard Poland, Mrs. LaDoyt Day and Mrs. Carl Whiteman.

In other business, the board voted to continue a remedial reading program, financed under the elementary and secondary education act and taught by Mrs. Lester Hagberg.

Discussed were prospects of the purchase by the district of property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Stanley on Red Arrow highway just west of the school grounds. Hired as bus drivers were Mrs. Roger VanderMolen and Henry Strefling.

Approved were bills totaling $10,216.28.

Mrs. Donna Curtiss, high school principal, reported that she has agreed to serve on the publications committee of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals.

Lakeshore To Discuss Dismissal Of Bickford

On Agenda For Monday

Nine Lakeshore school district citizens, known as the Lakeshore Group of Nine, are continuing their quest for improved communications between the public and Lakeshore board of education.

Principal Bickford in April said the board had decided not to renew his contract. He said no reasons were given him by the board.

The Lakeshore Education association called for a meeting with the school board to secure reasons for the reported decision and petitions have been signed by some 411 high school students, seeking to keep Bickford as principal.

The board has not voted on Bickford's status during a regular meeting.

Marohn said "A strong turnout at Monday night's meeting will demonstrate that the community does have a strong interest in the actions of the board, rather than the idea that remaining silent and not attending school board meetings is an automatic positive endorsement of all board activities."

Besides Marohn, the citizens' group includes Bob Nernberg, Jesse De May, Jay Van Den Berg, John Milmine, Fay Quadrakos, Thomas Shelley, Lowell Hicks and Pete Goodrow.

Chikaming Won't Vote Third Time

Charter Township Election Ruled Out

LAKESIDE — The Chikaming township board in a special meeting last night voted not to hold a third election on a charter township issue.

The vote was three to one and followed an opinion by the township attorney that such an election can only be called by a vote of the township board, or through petitions, signed by a necessary number of citizens.

The legal opinion by Attorney T.D. Childs of Three Oaks overruled a decision made by the board and some 40 citizens present during the annual township meeting last April. A vote that was taken to hold an election by Aug. 1 on forming a charter township form of government.

The issue was defeated at two earlier elections. Petitions signed by several hundred township residents were submitted to the board at its last meeting in protest to holding another election before 1970.

The board reported that the petitions had no bearing on the vote last night, which was based solely on a legal opinion as to how such an election may be called. Attorney Childs ruled that the action approved by the board and citizens at the township meeting was not valid.

Voting against the election last night were Mrs. Virginia Sperry, treasurer; Mrs. Lena Abrahamsen, clerk, and Delmore Meier, trustee. Favoring the election was Trustee Pearl E. Harrington. Supervisor Herbert Seeder did not vote.

Girl Dies In I-94 Crash

PORTRAGE (AP) — Della Coulter, 6, of Kenosha, Wis., was killed early today when a car driven by her mother, Joanne, 38, collided with another auto on a 1-94 entrance ramp in Portage.

Mrs. Coulter, her 17-year-old son, Daniel, and 15-year-old daughter, Denia, were hospitalized in poor condition. The driver of the other auto, Robert Lee Vandenberg, 21, of nearby Kalamazoo, escaped injury.
